
Exam : CBA exam

Title : Business Architecture Guild
Certified Business Architect
(CBA)®

Version : DEMO

1. When approaching and socializing a business architecture practice, a successful business architecture practitioner should:

- A. Think globally, but act locally
- B. Focus on solution architecture
- C. Provide maps, not business solutions
- D. Start with current state IT perspective

Answer: A

2. What is an example of a business architecture scenario?

- A. Strategy map
- B. Balanced Scorecard
- C. Merger & acquisition
- D. Business architecture knowledgebase

Answer: C

3. A large retail company has a strong desire to establish a joint venture in a global location to increase manufacturing and research/development capabilities.

Which business architecture practice helps identify the manner in which the two organizations can combine capabilities to optimize stakeholder value of the joint venture?

- A. Information mapping
- B. Stakeholder mapping
- C. Value stream mapping
- D. Business performance management

Answer: C

4. Which business architecture enabled analysis approach helps an executive identify revenue streams highlighted in the company's business model?

- A. Highlighting all business capabilities associated with money management
- B. Identifying where a Product Management capability is tied to a given business unit
- C. Identifying all value stream stages enabled by the Collection Management capability
- D. Pinpointing where customer stakeholders are involved in a given value stream stage

Answer: C

5. In addition to capability and business unit, which business architecture domain completes the application architecture mapping perspective?

- A. Initiative
- B. Value stream
- C. Business process
- D. Information concept

Answer: B